HE Marriage between the Hereditary Prince and the Princess Louis of Great Britain, is concluded, and will be de-clared in a few Days. We have lately made Total of a Firefing of a new Invention, which answers beyond Expec-tation. All the Troops quar-

ter'd throughout the Kingby has appointed for that Purpole, and every Thing ly for the intended Expedition; and it is thought, in the Arrival of the next Express from Stockholm, mekfore, May 31. Tho' there is great Pains taken to nt our having any just Account of what passes in ia, yet by private Letters from Munich, Ingoldstadt, atisbon, we have the following Accounts. The ans are now entirely Masters of all the Country can the Iser and the Inne. The French have aban-Deckendors, and burnt it. The Armies of Prince Deckendorff, and burnt it. The Armies of Prince and Prince Lobkowitz are joined; and it is belief that the French will find it extremely difficult to the Imperialifts, even if they intend it, which is doubted here. We have no certain Account from mu, nor can have, till it comes round to us by the intending the probability, it must be in the Hands Austrians as well as Munich, fince Count Seckensamp was in no Condition to defend it. The Riectorate is entirely ruined, for the French com-Electorate is entirely ruined, for the French com-rester Devastations in their Flight, than even the isa irregular Troops in their Pursuit. The French tremely embarras'd by the Conduct of Prince Lobwho, if they march towards Landshut, will cer-come into the Neighbourhood of Ratisbon, and cut off their Communication with the Upper atc. Of this they seem to be so sensible, that they ctually begun to remove their Magazines from actually begun to remove their Magazines from matembol; and the common Opinion here is, that larged Seckendorff will retire with his Forces under a Cannon of Ingoldstadt, in order to wait there for larged Broglio. But if that Marshal does not move expeditiously than he has done of late, it is very tely that Prince Charles will push on with his victoous Army, and engage the Imperialists before they are sined by the French.

Upon the 2d the King gave an Audience to Count Flemming, Envoy Extraordinary from Poland, who arrived here a few Days ago; as alfo to M. de Mardefeld, Envoy fibm the Bishop of Lubeck. Major Brietenbach, who commands the Squadron of Horse-Grenadiers lately raised, has received Orders from the King to go to the Army.

Hague, June 4. The States of Holland have given Directions for the Payment of that Province's Quota, in the Subsidy of 16,000 Florins for last Year to the Queen of Hungary. The Courier Baron Reischach had sent to Prague, with the States Resolution of the 17th of May last, concerning the March of the Auxiliary Body of Troops, returned last Saturday, and brought Orders from the Queen to that Minister, to press the said March as much as possible towards the Main. We had an Account To-day from Hanover, of the Arrival of the Lord Carteret there. The Duke of Richmond set out for Utrecht Yesterday Morning, as did M. Wasner for Hanover To-day. As Baron Cronstrom is expected here this Night, and the States of Holland, who adjourned themselves to Friday next, will resume their Assembly that Day, it is thought that the Dispositions for the intended March of the Dutch Auxiliary Troops will shen that Day, it is thought that the Dispositions for the in-tended March of the Dutch Auxiliary Troops will then be adjusted. We hear that the French are drawing their Army together at Platling, fituated upon the Confluence of the Ifer with the Danube, and that being apprehensive of Prince Lobkowitz, they have begun to remove their Magazine from Stadtamhoff to Straubing, for greater Beauclerk. By a Friend. Mmortal Shade! too fuddenly remov'd From Country, Friends, Relations, All you lov'd; Forgive the penfive Muse, who comes so late Forgive the pensive Muse, who comes so late With drooping Wing, to mourn your hasty Fate. For mod'rate Losses Tears will quickly flow, Excessive Evils stupity our Woe.

And such your Loss, when first your Loss we knew, it froze the Muse's Tears, and Genius too; Chil'd ev'ry Heart with Terror and Affright, And turn'd our promis'd Conquest into Flight.

Curse on the rash Attempt! in luckless Hours Bold Vernon storm'd the Carthagenian Tow'rs:

Bold Vernes florm'd the Carthagenian Tow'rs: Alas! What Triumph, had we fack'd the Town, And made the Western Continent our own? With all the Wealth conceal'd within her Veins, Your Loss had over-balanc'd all our Gains!

For ever gloomy be the fatal Day

That finatch'd the braveit, best of Men, away:
Let it the fable Clouds of Mourning wear,
No Sun to light if, and no Song to chear:
Let ev'ry Muse be dumb, or only mourn
In plaintive Sighs round Noble Aubrey's Urn.
Unhappy Thirst of Fame! that warm'd his Soul,
And mov'd his martial Flight from Pole to Pole:
To sty from East to West on Glory's Wing.

To fly from East to West on Glory's Wing, To serve his Country, and to serve his King: To spread Britannia's Fame in distant Lands; To combat Winds, and Waves, and Rocks, and Sands: Yet Winds, and Waves, and Rocks, and Sands he pair;

And vanquish'd ev'ry Foe, except the last:
The last, alone, his Valour could subdue;
Death only prov'd he could be vanquish'd too.
Then fell whate'er could dignify Mankind,
Truth, Honour, Friendship, Fortitude of Mind;
Politeness, Candour, Humour, chearful Wit; Politeness, Candour, Humour, chearful Wit;
An Heart benevolent, a Temper sweet:
White Innocence, and uncorrupted Faith,
True Piety, magnanimous in Death:
Each Virtue, void of Vanity or Fride,
All liv'd in Anbrey, and in Anbrey dy'd.
Yet bravely finish'd was his Mortal Race,
Finish'd in Honour's Bed, in Glory's Chace:
But while he fought the Shade of Glory here,
He soar'd to Heav'n, and found its Substance there.
